Summary of reasons
for classification:

The Blu-ray Disc entitled Knocked Up is classified as:
 Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 16 years.

It contains a feature originally examined as a 35mm film by the Office of Film and Literature Classification (OFLC No. 700824 registered 9 May 2007). This film was classified "Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 16 years". The feature was also contained on a DVD that had other components and was assigned the same classification (OFLC No. 702500 registered 18 October 2007).

The extra components on the Blu-ray disc are made up of deleted and extended or alternate scenes, staged documentaries, video diaries, cast and crew interviews, "raw" footage from the feature, numerous compilations of compounded lines and jokes, a feature commentary, and a special function known as U-Control that allows the viewer to watch the cast and crew segments in a pop-up window at the same time as the feature. These extra components deal with matters of sex, crime and highly offensive language in a similar manner to those in the original film and DVD. These components do not require the Blu-ray disc to be given a different classification to the previously classified versions.
